PFOA Insight Days into UK Armed Policing

The one-day course has been written with a purpose to educate, motivate and inspire the next generation of those considering a career as an armed police officer. The course content will give the candidate an opportunity to make an informed decision on their career path. They will have access to experienced firearms officers to answer any questions or concerns they may have, and all within the immersive environment of the PFOA Museum of Armed Policing. There will also be female only days to provide a safe space to discuss thoughts and views and address any issues that may be perceived as barriers to success.
